WMS Foundation

What makes Accellos unique in its approach to warehousing is its high level of configurability through modules designed for the empowerment of the Third Party Warehousing market. Everything from optimized receiving and putaway and cross docking on the inbound to task management and parcel manifesting on the outbound, AccellosOne WMS for 3PL has you covered.

Multi-Company

The Accellos multi-company functionality addresses the unique inventory and order management requirements of Third Party Logistics (3PL) or multi-company warehouses. Billing/Invoicing

In the ever increasingly competitive 3PL Warehousing market, it is not only imperative to have a system that can support the changing needs of each client's requirements, it is equally important to have a system that ensures that you are able to effectively and automatically bill for every chargeable activity for those clients. AccellosOne WMS for 3PL's comprehensive billing and invoicing system provides revenue assurance to management that all service activities are being properly and fully invoiced to customers. Billing is fully automated through the workflow process, making it simply a by-product of use, rather than a labor intensive task, providing a quick return on investment through reduced labor, improved accuracy and completeness of billing (no missed revenue).

Alert Management

As in any operation, things don't happen as expected and the resulting communication can be a time consuming exercise. However, with Accellos Alert notification, this can be a fully automated process. For an inspection upon receipt, upon failure to any QA question asked of an operator on the RF gun, an alert can be sent to notify your customer immediately of the issue. In fact, not only do you control the condition of when an alert is sent, you also control the recipients, timing and data content of the alert without IT assistance through Accellos' user configurable tools.
